INDEPENDENT LONG DISTANCE PHONE LINE

Now Under Construction To The Northward Cities
From This Point.

EXCHANGE AT CROFTON.

Actual Work Begun Tuesday
To Connect With Outside Cities.

The Ideal Construction Company, with Southern headquarters in this city, has the contract for constructing the independent long distance telephone line from here to Henderson, Ky.

Work was begun Tuesday on the first division of the work from here to Madisonville. The line has been surveyed, all rights secured and the work will be pushed by Engineer Gustav Hirsch who is in charge, with all possible dispatch. The poles are now being hauled out and placed, and a corps of workmen will soon begin to plant the poles and push the work of filling in the gap between Hopkinsville and long distance connection.

On Monday night the Crotton Board of Trustees granted a franchise to the Home Telephone Company, which will establish an exchange as soon as possible, and will start with practically every business house in the town and numerous residences. This exchange will be connected with the Hopkinsville exchange. The local exchange will soon have free lines extending from Lafayette to Mannington, a distance of forty miles. The county will be practically covered by county lines during the present year.

MARE RECOVERED.

Was Stolen Near This City
Five Months Ago.

Dr. R. W. Ware this week went to Springfield, Tenn., and recovered his mare stolen Nov. 8, 1904. She was found loose in the suburbs of Springfield a few days afterwards, by M. C. Moore, formerly of this place, who took her up. Her front foot was badly cut with a wire and her mane had been cropped off roughly, as with a knife. She was weak from loss of blood. Mr. Moore kept her up for two months and doctor her foot. He advertised her and she was appraised at $25 in his crippled condition. Dr. Ware learned of her whereabouts through Mr. Moore's son, who was in the city. He went to Springfield to identify the mare and as soon as she saw him she came up and laid her head on his shoulder. Dr. Ware made a satisfactory settlement and the mare was brought home Tuesday. The thief evidently turned her loose after getting her so badly injured that she was unable to travel. She is apparently entirely recovered from the injury.

NEW DEPARTURE.

Big Sale Now On At Sinking Fork.

Mr. T. G. Hiser, the Sinking Fork merchant, is out this week in large posters, announcing a big sale, which began Tuesday of this week and will continue until April 29. The manager of the establishment, Mr. W. C. Stevens, has just returned from the markets, where he bought largely of merchandise in general, and at prices which enable him to sell so low that his customers are all intensely interested. This sale is a new departure in the mercantile business at Sinking Fork, and the people for miles around are flocking to the store to share in the bargains offered.

PRETTY GIRL DISAPPEARS FROM HOME.

The Affair Is Shrouded In a Veil of Mystery.

DID SHE SUICIDE?

Only Clue An Intimation to Her Sister That She Would Soon Leave.

Miss Mattie Orten, daughter of Mr. Richard Orten, of Lantirpe, North Christian, has mysteriously disappeared and all efforts to trace her whereabouts have been unsuccessful. The young woman left her home on March 24. She was last seen by members of the family passing a window of the house, going in the direction of the yard gate. This was about four o'clock in the afternoon. When she failed to return at the supper hour nothing was thought of the matter, the presumption being that she had gone on a visit to some neighbor. Inquiry among the neighbors the next day failed to locate her, however, and searching parties were then organized, but no trace of her could be discovered.

Miss Orten is about nineteen years old, and quite pretty, and possesses much intelligence. It is said that the day before her disappearance, while she was engaged in some household duties, she remarked to one of her sisters that she had better be learning to perform the duties as she might shortly have all of them to do. Various theories are advanced concerning her disappearance, but at last accounts the affair was shrouded in mystery. A pond near the house was dragged, upon the theory that she may have committed suicide, but the body was not found.

If she ran away from home she took no clothing and could not have gone far on foot without being overtaken by darkness. None of the neighbors have cared for her or seen her, but she has disappeared as completely as though the earth had opened and swallowed her.

The Weather.

Washington, D. C., April 5.—Generally fair and colder tonight, with light frost. Thursday fair and warmer.

Judge Dunne, the new mayor of Chicago, is the father of thirteen children.

It is said that the recent $250,000 fire at Marion, Ky., was started by boys smoking cigarettes in a hay loft.

Two feet of snow has fallen since April 1 in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

The Barbour trial at Shepherdsville is nearing an end. The best the defendant can hope for is a hung jury.

A fierce snowstorm has been raging in the Rocky Mountains, in Colorado, for three or four days. Many trains are snow-bound.

The Hargis trial was called at Lexington Tuesday and on account of the absence of witnesses was postponed until yesterday.

Rev. J. B. Kelley, of Alto Pass, Ill., has received several anonymous letters in feminine hand, asking him to omit the word "obey" from his marriage ceremony.

E. H. Shellman, a banker at Irvington, has been nominated for representative in Breckenridge county. He is a strong administration man and a close friend of Dr. Milton Board, who is from that county.

Peace talk at St. Petersburg is subsiding and there are more warlike preparations. Rojevskensky is said to be on his last run towards Vladivostok since March 19 and a great naval battle is liable to occur at any time. Russia's hopes are centered on the defeat of Togo.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contains Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists. Price, 75c, per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

LADIES DELIGHTED

With Grand Millinery Displays in the City.

The milliners of Hopkinsville are having their spring openings this week. J. H. Anderson & Co. had their opening last week and hundreds of ladies visited their store and marveled at the beautiful and superb display. This week Miss Sallie Hooser, Campbell & Co., Mrs. E. Keegan, Miss Fannie Rogers and Mrs. Emma Davis are entertaining the ladies in a similar manner and their respective business houses are being crowded each day. All of the displays are most creditable, all of the latest creations in the millinery line being on exhibition. The milliners of the city bought very largely this season and their openings are being attended by larger crowds than ever before.

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them. They litter the whole system. Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, flat feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"I had salt rheum on my hands so that I could not work. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it drove out the humor. I continued its use till the sores disappeared." Miss Ida O. Brown, Hamford Falls, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

ROOSEVELT'S VISIT

Made Memorable by City of Louisville.

President Roosevelt spent two busy hours in Louisville Tuesday as the warmly welcomed guest of the city. He left his train at the Southern end of the city and was escorted through the streets to the music of bands and the cheers of many thousands of people. A stop was made at the court house, where Gov. Beckham introduced him to a great mass of citizens to whom he delivered a short address. In the presence of a few invited guests at the Louisville Hotel he was presented with a silver flagon, a silver vase and a silver mounted instand. At 11 o'clock the President left for St. Louis enroute to Texas and the West.

DEMOCRATS HOLD CHICAGO BY $25,000.

Judge Dunne Elected Mayor Over Justice Harlan's Son.

GREAT ISSUE AT STAKE.

City Officially Committed to Municipal Ownership.

Chicago, April 4.—A political tornado to-day overwhelmed one of the most ruggedly unique leaders in the country. Incidentally the Republican party met defeat in a memorable effort to capture the majority of Chicago. As a direct result the city is officially committed to the policy of the quickest possible extinguishment of private franchises for public utilities. Municipal ownership is especially threatening street car lines, valued high up in the millions.

Judge Edward F. Dunne, Democrat, was elected Mayor over John M. Harlan, Republican, by a plurality of nearly 25,000 votes. By the result of the election the city is committed to municipal ownership of public utilities, and the extinguishment at the earliest practicable date of private franchises for such enterprises. The Socialist candidate polled a larger vote than was expected, as there was much in the Democratic platform that was believed to be satisfactory to them.

Harlan is a son of Judge Jno. M. Harlan, of the Supreme Court. His defeat is attributed to an extraordinary whirl of causes, starting with political revenge and taking in a wide sweep embracing the most up-to-date socialism as a factor. Seldom, if ever, has Chicago witnessed a more lively, picturesque contest. Today, particularly, the city was hideous with the ringing of cow bells and the roar of cannon crackers.

The Delineator for May.

Among the women's magazines none will be read with greater interest than the May Delineator, which appears with a varied and attractive table of contents. The news of the fashion world is reported in a number of special articles, and the choice of the season's dress productions are illustrated. Chief among the literary features is Albert Bigelow Paine's serial story "The Lucky Piece," which grows upon the reader with the second installment and promises most interesting developments to the succeeding chapters. Sewell Ford and Scumas MacManus also contribute fiction, the latter an imitable story of Irish life. N. Hudson Moore writes concerning old chairs in "The Collector's Manual." "A Duet in Brittany" is an enjoyable travel sketch by W. W. Newton, D. D., and Dr. W. R. C. Leston contributes an article on "Housework as a Recreation," illustrating the proper methods of performing household duties so that they become profitable and pleasurable instead of disagreeable tasks, as they are usually regarded. Dr. Murray discusses "The Child's Bath" in a paper that will be helpful to young mothers, and Allan Sutherland tells something of the origin and romance of Keble's famous hymn, "Sun of My Soul." For the young people there are amusements of various kinds and stories by such entertaining writers as L. Frank Baum, Grace MacGowan Cooke, Irene Harrington Wright and others, and a large amount of space is devoted to domestic topics, among which attention may be called particularly to the article in the series "The Making of a Housewife."

Miss Hope Mason has accepted a position with the Acme Mills and Elevator Company as stenographer.

VERY TRYING TO WOMEN

Are the Peculiar Ills Brought on by Catarrh of the Pelvic Organs. (Per-una is a Tonic Especially Adapted to Their Peculiar Diseases.)

Catarrh is a very frequent cause of that class of diseases popularly known as female weakness. Catarrh of the pelvic organs produces such a variety of disagreeable and often dangerous symptoms that many people—in fact, the majority of people—have no idea that they are caused by catarrh. A great proportion of women have some catarrhal weakness which has been called by the various doctors who have consulted by as many different names. These women have been treated and have taken medicines, with no relief, simply because the remedies are not adapted to catarrh. It is through a mistaken notion as to the real nature of the diseases that these medicines have been recommended to them. If all the women who are suffering with any form of female weakness would write to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, and give him a complete description of their troubles, he will immediately reply, with complete directions for treatment, free of charge. "Health and Beauty," a book written especially for women, sent free by Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Miss Alice Dressler, of No. 1013 North Bryant Ave., Minneapolis, Minn., writes as follows concerning Peruna:

"I was suffering from catarrh of the throat and head. One of my college friends, who was visiting me, asked me to try Peruna and I did so and found it all more than I had expected. It not only cured me of the catarrh, but restored me to perfect health."—Alice Dressler.

Miss Mamie Groth, Plattville, Wis., writes:

"I have for several years suffered with frequent backache and would for several days have splitting headaches. Several of my friends advised me to take Peruna and I asked my physician what he thought of it. He recommended it and so I took it and an entirely without pain of any kind now."—Mamie Groth.

In a recent letter from No. 2 Grant Ave., Denver, Col., Mrs. Ida L. Gregory writes:

"Some six years ago my husband suffered with nervous prostration, and advising with a friendly druggist he brought home a bottle of Peruna. His appetite was restored from its use, his health was improved and his sleep came to him."—Ida L. Gregory.

Miss Florence Murphy, No. 270 Second Ave., Seattle, Wash., writes:

"I suffered for over a year with female trouble, and although I tried several physicians none of them seemed to be able to help me permanently. It was only took a little over three bottles of Peruna to make me well and strong. I never have backache, headache or bearing down pains any more."—Florence Murphy.

Mrs. Louise Westbrook, No. 9 East Columbia St., Detroit, Mich., Secretary of the West Side Lotus Club, writes:

"For several years I suffered with hemorrhoids and painful menstruation, which was followed by general debility, until I was but a wreck of myself. Thanks to Peruna I am a well woman to-day."—Louise Westbrook.

Miss Jessema Westbrook, No. 707 Superior Ave., Detroit, Mich., District

Deputy of Detroit Independent Order of Good Templars, writes as follows:

"Peruna has been a blessing to me and gladly do I endorse it. For two years I suffered with catarrh of the stomach. I lost flesh and grew thin and emaciated, nervous and exhausted, so that I could neither work or enjoy life. I began taking Peruna and can now eat and enjoy everything I eat. I have been well over a year now."—Miss Jessema Westbrook.

PERVERSE WOMAN.

BY T. G. FESSENDEN.

"Confound the girl! Where on earth did she ever get such ideas? Have a cigar, Ted."

Theodore Lord lighted the proffered weed and smoked thoughtfully for several minutes.

"You have me, there, judge," he said at length. "Possibly from some of this later-day literature. It seems to me as if I had read something similar."

"Very possibly," said Judge Martin, frowning. "You say she thinks the affair too cut and dried."

"She doesn't express herself in just those terms. She says everything is too obvious," said he.

Judge Martin smiled.

"She says," Lord continued, "it has been too glaringly apparent how everything would turn out. She can't remember the day, she claims, when it wasn't obvious that she would some day marry the nice little boy who lived across the street. She presumes that it was just as obvious to the nice little boy that he would some day marry Judge Martin's daughter."

In fact, things have been so terribly obvious from the very beginning that she fears we don't know our own minds, and perhaps later we may find we have made a great mistake."

Judge Martin ran his fingers nervously through his bushy white hair.

"I always thought she was the most sensible girl in the world," said he.

"She is," said Lord, quickly. "There may be reason in what she says."

"I know she thinks the world of you, no matter what she says," said the judge, stoutly.

"I've had the temerity to think that myself," said Lord, "and I've tried to think this state of mind is merely temporary with her."

He blew smoke rings thoughtfully.

"Perhaps if I went away this winter," he continued, "it might help matters. There's the trip to California, you know. I might take that."

"Nonsense!" the judge exploded. "You can't leave your practice here. And you can't afford it, either. You'll need all your money for your house. The trouble is, Ted, this affair of yours has been altogether too smooth. It needs opposition to stir it into healthy life. I believe a little touch of romantic opposition would work wonders with Elizabeth."

"I'm inclined to think you're right," said Lord, slowly.

The judge brought his fist down on the library table with a bang.

"Confound it!" he said, his eyes twinkling. "I don't want you for a son-in-law. I've never thought of such a thing. My daughter, Elizabeth! Never, my presumptuous young friend. See the point, Teddy?"

Lord sprang to his feet.

"Judge," he said, "you're a thoroughbred."

"Somewhat better than California, I fancy," he drawled.

"Infinitely," the young man said, with enthusiasm.

"Come around to-morrow at three," said the judge. "Elizabeth will be here then. O, I'll sit on you beautifully. Take another cigar with you."

"To-morrow at three, then," said Lord, picking up his overcoat.

The judge nodded and dropped one eyelid deliberately.

The following afternoon at three Theodore Lord and the judge were again seated in the library. Light footfalls sounded in the room overhead. Lord raised his voice as he said with cold formality:

"I scarcely expected you to fly into a rage, sir, merely because I come to you and ask for your daughter's hand in honorable marriage."

"You didn't eh?" The spasmodic anger of the judge's voice was beautifully done.

"I confess I expected quite a different reception," said Lord.

"Young man," sneered the judge, "I like your nerve. Your supposition that I would give my consent for Elizabeth to marry a penniless young sawbones is quite on a par with your other mental processes."

"I admit my practice and income are rather very amazing," said Lord, with some heat, "but I think you'll find them sufficient to warrant the request I have made; besides which I have health and ambition and no intention to stagnate."

"I regret to have to tell you, Elizabeth," there is not to be wasted on an experiment," said the judge.

"Then it is only fair to you to say I shall try to win her affections without that consent," said Lord, angrily.

"Do so, by all means," roared the judge. "I can tell you now she doesn't care a snap of her fingers for you."

The portieres were flung apart and Elizabeth stood before them.

"There you are mistaken," she said in a shaken voice, looking unflinchingly at her father.

For a moment there was silence; then the judge turned to Lord.

"Leave the house before I throw you out," said the judge.

Elizabeth walked over to Lord and put her hand in his.

"You may throw me out, too," she said, quietly.

The judge turned away, ostensibly to control his wrath.

"Keep the young idiot, if you want him," he said. "I'm going to the club."

Late that evening Lord found the judge in his favorite corner at the club. The judge grinned as he came up.

"How about the opposition, eh? Have a cigar, Teddy."—Boston Globe
